

DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING RESEARCH STUDENT PROGRESS EXAMINATION

For Research Students admitted from 1 October 2014

Name of Student

Name of Supervisor.....

THIS FORM IS TO BE COMPLETED AND SIGNED BY BOTH SUPERVISOR AND STUDENT (EACH RETAINING A COPY) AND RETURNED BY THE STUDENT TO THE GRADUATE STUDIES OFFICE BY 3 November 2014.

All first year research students are required to attend one Research and Communication Club, your supervisor will advise which RCC you should join. They are also required to take at least two modules/reading clubs. Students will be entered for the examinations of all Modules listed below. Candidates will receive a confirmation of their examination entries from the Board of Examinations, via their Colleges, in the Lent Term. The pass mark for all modules is 50%, and module marks will be taken into account as part of the first year assessment process in September/October 2015.

Modules should be selected from the approved list of Part IIB courses and the specialist research modules. Relevant MPhil modules and Part II courses in other Departments are acceptable alternatives to those offered by the Department of Engineering. Your supervisor should obtain permission from the Department concerned for you to sit the examination or arrange alternative assessment.

Modules from Part IIA are not available to Graduate Students.

Exemption from Module/Reading Club requirements

The Graduate Teaching Committee strongly recommends that all research students take at least the minimum number of required courses. However, students who have a Cambridge MPhil in a clearly related subject may request, in consultation with their supervisor, an exemption from one or both of the course requirements. Students who have a Merit in the MEng Degree from CUED may apply for exemption from one module, on the grounds that they have already taken most of the relevant courses.

Requests for exception should be made in writing to the Graduate Studies Office signed by both the student and supervisor.

To avoid delaying their registration Students are advised to select two courses and attend the lectures until their request has been approved.

No Exemption from attendance at a Research and Communications Club will be granted.
